

For the past 5 years I wanted to add some flagstone to our landscaping, but never wanted to put the money out there as there was always more important needs to cover. Yesterday afternoon I took the kids out to ride on their scooters, left the neighborhood and went a direction we typically do not go. We turn the corner and there is a commercial landscape company that had an entire pallet of flagstone with a “Free” sign on it outside of their facility! I ended up getting several hundred dollars’ worth of stone for free! God is good! (Chad Brady)
