

I'm not sure how to "label" this testimony... but it couldn't wait until Sunday. This morning (Thursday) I left home a little early because I needed some copies for school. My son Marcus' girlfriend Ayla, sent a text message asking for a ride. (I almost told her no because my car was messy.) Something told me to pick her up. She wasn't ready when I got close to her home so I stopped at 7-11. Once she was ready I picked her up and went on our way to school. Nearing the school, about a block away from one of the stoplights, BOOM, there was a car accident. We missed the accident because I stopped and picked up Ayla for school. (I didn't realize it was Holy Spirit until later).

After school I was the last to leave--I had more prep work for tomorrow. I wasn't going to stay and finish until something once again told me to stay and just get it done. Leaving the school, now on the road, 1 block away from THE EXACT SAME LIGHT but going in the opposite direction... there's another car accident. Whether it was a Word of Knowledge or angelic protection, I don't know... but I know God was speaking and I listened. My family was protected because I "heard" something first, then "felt" something later and obeyed after both times.

I prayed this very thing would be imparted into those who came for prayer ministry at Kingdom Ministry Training Wednesday night. I also received prayer for an impartation of greater angelic visitations and visions. When we open our hearts and simply ask God to come and impart what He has already promised...well...HE really does show up!
